*“ Aye, thus it is, one generation comes,
Another goes and mingles with the dust,
And thus we come and go, and come and go,
Each for a little moment, filling up
Some little place—and thus we disappear
In quick succession, and it shall be so
Till time in one vast perpetuity
Be swallowed up.”—ANON.*

PREFACE.

THE publication of the following pages was designed to perpetuate to future generations the Record of these ancient families, and enable them to trace their genealogy, in a direct line, back to their Pilgrim Fathers. The history of the settlement of the Old Colony, in 1620, and of the Massachusetts in 1630, is familiar to a large portion of the present generation, being taught in their schools and read by their firesides ; the trials they endured on their first arrival and for a number of years afterwards, by sickness and death, by want of provisions, by terror by night and day from the howlings of savage beasts and more savage men, will not cease to be interesting to their descendants to the latest period of time.

It may not be uninteresting to give a short sketch of the Ecclesiastical History of the first settlers of New England, in which not only they were concerned but all their posterity to the present day.

“The first settlers of the Plymouth Colony, (1620) were called Separatists, having separated from the Established Church of England, some years previous to their settlement in this country.”

“In 1596, they (the Separatists,) published their Confession of Faith with the grounds of their separation ; reprinted with their Apology in 4 to 1604.

But their sufferings and writings soon increased their numbers, and more of the warmer Puritans embraced their Doctrines, left the public churches, and met in private houses for a purer worship. But then they lost the name of Puritans, and received that of the Separatists, the far greater part of the Puritans remaining still in the church, writing with zeal against the separation; and as Sprint on their behalf in 1608 expresses it:—A separation we deny not from the Corruptions of the church wherein we live, in Judgment, Profession, Practice; for which so many of both parts, (or Parties, i. e. of Puritans and Separatists,) have suffered and do suffer so many things. But the difference is, We (i. e. the Puritans,) suffer for separating in the church; you, (i. e. the Separatists,) out of the church.”—Prince’s Annals, 1, 235.

And those of the Massachusetts Colony, (1630) were called Puritans, as the same author says, p. 239. “Of these English Puritans were the greater part of the Massachusetts Colony. They had been chiefly born and brought up in the National Church, and had hitherto lived in Communion with her. As their Ministers had been ordained by her Bishops, they had officiated in her Parochial Churches, and till now had made no Secession from them.”

In a Poem written by ROGER WOLCOTT, Esq., published in the Mass. Hist. Coll. 4, 263, are the following curious lines:

“But if you ask to gain intelligence
 “What were the reasons why they went from hence,
 “What straits they met with in their way and there?
 “These facts I think I’m able to declare,
 “Religion was the cause: Divinity!
 “Having declared the gospel shine (light) should be “Extensive as the sun’s diurnal shine;
 “This moved our founders to this great design.”

A vast fund of information relative to the Political and Ecclesiastical state of our ancestors may be collected from the Plymouth Memorial and other Histories of that Colony, and from Winthrop's Journal of the Massachusetts, Hutchinson, Prince, Holmes, &c. But after all there is still an increasing desire "to know," as Mr. Farmer says, "something respecting those who have preceded us in the stage of action; and there has begun a curiosity among many of the present generation to trace back their progenitors, in an uninterrupted series, to those who first landed on the bleak and inhospitable shores of New England. And it is not improbable that the arrival of the puritan fathers of New England will form a more memorable epoch in history, than the conquest of England does in that country; and that posterity, a few centuries hence, will experience as much pleasure in tracing back their ancestry to the New England colonists, as some of the English feel in being able to deduce their descent from the Normans."

"There is a satisfaction in recognizing our first ancestor from the European continent; in knowing from what part of Great Britain he came; where he settled, and the circumstances and condition of his family. Owing to the trials and hardships endured by the first settlers of New England, the uncertainty of their remaining in the country, and the little time afforded them for recording family data and genealogical facts, there are but few families, who have full and complete satisfaction in each of these particulars. But some facts, even at this late period, might be known of almost every individual who settled in any of the colonies, if suitable patience, research, and industry were employed in collecting them. Our earliest records and Memorials are full of information, and in regard to minuteness and accuracy will bear a comparison with those of modern date ; and it is somewhat remarkable that so large a portion of them have escaped the many perils to which fire and the aboriginal wars exposed them."

These records are in a gradual state of decay, and many of them in a very shattered condition, many names and dates have already become obliterated, some portions lost, and probably lost forever ; every effort should therefore be made to rescue these precious relics of antiquity from the ruins of time.

The materials of the First Part were principally collected by the personal labour and research of the author, from authentic, original sources ; some small portion from tradition, and some from the written communications of persons interested in the work.

A large portion of the Second Part was collected and arranged by DR. SAMUEL W. THAYER, of Thetford, Vt. more than twenty years ago, to which large additions have been made from time to time, by STEPHEN W. JACKSON, Esq. of Boston, and others ; but nearly all the dates of births, marriages, and deaths, prior to 1760, and even later, with very many additional names, (and numerous corrections of errors,) were extracted from town records with the utmost care and precision. Many acknowledgments are however due to several distinguished individuals for their contribution of Materials, and for their encouragement and patronage towards its publication, of whom are Rev. TIMOTHY ALDEN, of East Liberty, Pa. ; JOHN FARMER, Esq. of Concord, N. H. ; Hon. JOHN Q. ADAMS of Quincy ; Z. B. ADAMS, M. D. ; ISAAC PORTER, M. D., and STEPHEN W. JACKSON, Esq. of Boston ; Rev. JONATHAN FRENCH of N. Hampton, N. H.; Hon. NAHUM MITCHEL of Bridgewater; many Town Clerks, who have generously given free access to their records, or furnished extracts therefrom, and others too numerous to specify.

EXPLANATIONS.

A. B. C. D. &c. denotes the successive generations from the first progenitor of each family. A. denotes the first generation, B. the second, C. the third, &c. in the first part. In the Second Part, consisting of fourteen branches corresponding with the same number of families, in Part I. the Progenitor of each branch is numbered 1, and their generations designated by the same characters, A. B. C. &c.

In the early records it will be observed that the dates were specified by numerical figures in many instances, as 23 day, 2 month, 1640, or 12 month, 3 day, 1657, see Bass No. 11, first part, &c. which method of computation was continued until 1752, the year beginning on the 25th of March, which was called the 1st month, February the 12th, September, October, November, and December, then having the numerical rank agreeably to their Latin etymology, which is now done away.

To the dates of births, marriages, deaths, &c. recorded prior to 1752, eleven days should be added, to make the old style correspond with the new. (Compare No.

1—5, Ninth Branch, O. S. with No. 62 Memoir, N. S.) This rule will apply in most instances, but there are exceptions.

In conclusion, to use the language of another, on a similar occasion—"The object of the author has been to throw light on a subject of which, necessarily, very many must have been ignorant ; and although this may not have been effected in the best manner possible, he is conscious of having done it as well as he could. If the collection should be found in any degree useful, the purpose will be answered."

FAMILY MEMORIAL.

THE FAMILY OF ALDEN.

HON. JOHN ALDEN,*

the Progenitor of all of the name of Alden in the United States, married Priscilla, daughter of Mr. William Mullins, by whom "he had eight children, four sons and four daughters, who lived to enter the marriage state, who had many children and most of whom lived to a good old age."

*The Hon. John Alden was one of the pilgrims of Leyden, who came in the May Flower to Plymouth, in 1620. He was about twenty two years of age, when he arrived, and was one of those who signed the original civil compact formed and solemnly adopted by the first adventurers at Cape Cod Harbor, on the 15 November. This was a few days previous to their finding and selecting a place for the commencement of their settlement in this western world. He was a single man and appears to have been an inmate in the family of Capt. Myles Standish. He was the stripling who first leaped upon the rock, as mentioned by President Adams in a certain communication.

It is well known that of the first company, consisting of one hundred and one, about one half died in six months after landing, in consequence of the hardships they were called to encounter. Mrs. Rose Standish, consort of Capt. Standish, departed this life on the 29 January, 1621. This circumstance is mentioned as an introduction to the following anecdote, which has been carefully handed down by tradition:

In a very short time after the decease of Mrs. Standish, the Captain was led to think that if he could obtain Miss Priscilla Mullins, a daughter of Mr. William Mullins, the breach in his family would be happily repaired. He therefore, according to the custom of those times, sent to ask Mr. Mullins' permission to visit his daughter. John Alden, the messenger, went and faithfully communicated the wishes of the Captain. The old gentle-son of the Hon. John Alden, went from Duxbury to Boston as early as 1659, with his wife Elizabeth, by whom he had one child.

man did not object, as he might have done, on account of the recency of Capt. Standish's bereavement. He said it was perfectly agreeable to him, but the young lady must also be consulted. The damsel was then called into the room, and John Alden, who is said to have been a man of most excellent form, with a fair and ruddy complexion, arose, and in a very courteous and prepossessing manner, delivered his errand. Miss Mullins listened with respectful attention, and at last, after a considerable pause, fixing her eyes upon him, with an open and pleasant countenance, said, "prythe John why do you not speak for yourself?" He blushed and bowed and took his leave, but with a look, which indicated more than his diffidence would permit him otherwise to express. However he soon renewed his visit and it was not long before their nuptials were celebrated in ample form. From them are descended all of the name Alden in the United States. What report he made to his constituent after the first interview, tradition does not unfold, but it is said, how true the writer knows not, that the Captain never forgave him to the day of his death.

For a few years, the subject of this article lived in Plymouth, and then settled in Duxbury, on a farm, which, it is a little remarkable, has remained in the possession of his descendants ever since, and is one of the best in the town. He built his house on a rise of land near Eagle Tree Pond, where the ruins of his well are still to be seen.

John Alden, the principal subject of this memoir, is supposed to have been a native of some part of the Island of Great Britain. A very few of the name however appear to have been in England. The name has probably been more common in Germany. In a certain printed catalogue of the graduates of Cambridge University, but one of this name is to be found. In that part of Calamy's account of ejected ministers and others confined to the County of Bedford, Mr. Alden a scholar of St. John's College is mentioned as one who suffered from the tyrannical Bartholomew Act. In Guil-line's Display of Heraldry, the following armorial passage is recorded. "He beareth gules, three crescents within a border engrailed ermine by the name of Alden." This coat was assigned 8 September, 1607, by William Cambden, clarencieur to John Alden, of the Middle Temple.

Through a long protracted life, the subject of this article was almost continually engaged in public employments. In the patent for Plymouth, in New England, dated 16 January, 1629, and signed by Robert Earl of Warwick, Myles Standish, Edward Winslow, John Howland, and John Alden or any of them, are named as the true and lawful attornies of the council established at Plymouth, in the county of Devon. Accordingly, John Alden entered into some part of the tracts specified in the patent, took possession in due form, and delivered the full and peaceable possession and seizen of the same to William Bradford, Governor of the Old Colony, his heirs, associates and assigns, secundum formam chartæ.

He was one of the Court of Assistants in 1633, and successively for a number of years. From 1641 to 1649 inclusively, he was chosen to represent the town of Duxbury in the General Court of the Old Colony. In 1653, and for several succeeding years, he was one of the Council of War, appointed on account of danger apprehended from the Indians. In the year 1650, he was again elected one of the assistants to the Governor, and every year after till 1686: In December of the last mentioned year, Sir Edmund Andros arrived with an extensive Commission from King James II. appointing him Governor of all the New England Colonies. Of course the liberties of the people of the Old Colony were supposed to be at an end. The measures of Sir Edmund were very disgusting to the free born sons of this western world; and at length he was seized and imprisoned at Boston. In 1688, a happy revolution took place; William and Mary came to the throne of England, and Andros had leave to depart from the country. This colony then resumed its original powers, and elections by the people took place till May, 1692, when the charter, uniting the Old Colony of Plymouth with Massachusetts, arrived. The Governor, Lieut. Governor and Secretary, were after appointed by Royal Authority.

The subject of this memoir was an assistant to all the Governors of the Old Colony, except Carver, who early fell a victim to the distressing calamities which afflicted the adventurers on their first arrival at Plymouth. For thirty six years without interruption he was elected to this office, and for the twenty last years of his life, from 1666 till the liberties of the people were infringed, through the folly of James the second, he was the senior assistant.

From tradition as well as from the annexed elegy occasioned by his death, this aged and venerable puritan was distinguished by his holy life and conversation. He was a meek, humble, sincere, pious, and faithful follower of the blessed Redeemer, and his end was peace and triumph.—The object which in his youthful days he anxiously sought, was fully attained. He came to the howling wilds of America to enjoy the sweets of religion, pure and undefiled. Like the saints of old he was willing to endure hardships with the people of God, while he might be instrumental in extending the Kingdom of Immanuel, and looking to a better and an eternal state of existence for the rewards of grace. Here he was unmolested in the exercise of the rights of conscience and in the worship of the Most High. In addition to his spiritual blessings he was crowned with that competence which is vital to content, with an uncommon length of days, and with a goodly number of children, all of whom delighted in the ordinances of God and finally left that good name in the world which is better than precious ointment.

The following lines with which this article is closed are supposed to have been written by the Rev. John Cotton of Plymouth, and are respectful to the memory of one of the pious and worthy fathers of New England. They have been several times given to the public from the press, and are more valuable on account of the rich sentiments they contain, than the style in which they are composed:

ELEGY,

On the death of the Honorable John Alden, for many years a Magistrate of the Old Plymouth Colony, who died on the 12 September, 1687, probably in his 90th year.

The staff of bread and water eke the stay,
From sinning Judah God will take away;
The prudent Counsellor, the Honorable,
Whom grace and holiness makes delectable,

2. John,	born 20 Nov. 1660	5. William,	born 16 March, 1664
3. Elizabeth,	" 9 May, 1662	6. Elizabeth, 2d "	9 April, 1665
4. John, 2d,	" 12 March, 1663	7. William, 2d, "	5 March, 1666

The Judge, the prophet, and the ancient saint ;
 The deaths of such cause sorrowful complaint.
 The earth and its inhabitants do fall,
 The aged saint bears up its pillars all.
 The hoary head in way of righteousness
 A crown of glory is. Who can express
 The abundant blessings by disciples old !
 In every deed they're more than can be told.
 The guise 'tis of a wanton generation
 To wish the aged soon might quit their station.
 Though truth it be, the Lord our God does frown,
 When aged saints by death do tumble down.
 What though there be not such activity,
 Yet in their prayers there's such fervency
 As doth great mercy for a place obtain,
 And gracious presence of the Lord maintain.
 Though nature's strength in old age doth decay,
 Yet the inward man renewed is day by day.
 The very presence of a saint in years,
 Who lifts his soul to God with prayers and tears,
 Is a rich blessing unto any place,
 Who have that mercy to behold his face.
 When sin is ripe and calls for desolation
 God will call home old saints from such a nation.
 Let sinners then of the aged weary be.
 God give me grace to mourn most heartily,
 For death of this dear servant of the Lord,
 Whose life God did to us so long afford,
 God lent his life to greatest length of days,
 In which he lived to his Redeemer's praise.
 In youthful time he made Moses his choice,
 His soul obeying great Jehovah's voice,
 Freely forsook the world for sake of God,
 In his house with his saints to have abode.
 He followed God into this wilderness ;
 Thereby to all the world he did profess
 Affliction with his saints a better part
 And more delightful to his holy heart,
 Than sinful pleasures, lasting but a season ;
 Thus said his faith, so saith not carnal reason.
 He came one of the first into this land
 And here was kept by God's most gracious hand.
 Years sixty seven, which time he did behold
 To poor New England mercies manifold.
 All God's great works to this his Israel
 From first implanting that to them befell ;
 Of them he made a serious observation
 And could of them present a large narration.
 His walk was holy, humble and sincere,
 His heart was filled with Jehovah's fear ;
 He honored God with much integrity,
 God therefore did him truly magnify.
 The hearts of saints entirely did him love,

10. Nathaniel, " " about 1670	13. Sarah, " " 27 Sept. 1681

John Alden, Senior, died 14 March, 1702.

His uprightness so highly did approve,
 That whilst to choose they had their liberty
 Within the limits of this Colony,
 Their civil leader him they ever chose
 His faithfulness made hearts with him to close.
 With all the Governors he did assist ;
 His name recorded is within the list
 Of Plymouth's pillars to his dying day.
 His name is precious to eternal ay'.
 He set his love on God and knew his name,
 God therefore gives him everlasting fame.
 So good and heavenly was his conversation,
 God gave long life and showed him his salvation.
 His work now finished upon this earth ;
 Seeing the death of what he saw the birth,
 His gracious Lord from heaven calls him home,
 And saith, my servant, now to heaven come ;
 Thou hast done good, been faithful unto me,
 Now shalt thou live in bliss eternally.
 On dying bed his ails were very great,
 Yet verily his heart on God was set.
 He bare his griefs with faith and patience
 And did maintain his lively confidence ;
 Saying to some, the work which God begun,
 He would preserve to its perfection.
 His mouth was full of blessings till his death
 To ministers and christians all : his breath
 Was very sweet by many a precious word
 He uttered from the Spirit of his Lord.
 He lived in Christ, in Jesus now he sleeps ;
 And his blest Soul, the Lord in safety keeps.

JOHN ALDEN. ANAGRAM—END ALL ON HI.

Death puts an end to all this world enjoys
 And frees the saint from all, that here annoys.
 This blessed saint hath seen an end of all Worldly perfections. Now his Lord doth call
 Him to ascend from earth to heaven high,
 Where he is blest to all Eternity.
 Who walk with God as he, shall so be blest,
 And evermore in Christ, his arms shall rest.
 Lord spare thy remnant, do not us forsake,
 From us do not thy Holy Spirit take.
 Thy cause, thy interest in this land still own
 Thy gracious presence ay let be our crown.

Alden in his account says, that the accuser first pointed to another man and said nothing, but the man who held her stooped down to her ear and then she cried out Alden! Alden! All were ordered into the street and a ring made, and then she cried out, "There stands Alden, a bold fellow, with his hat on, sells powder and shot to the Indians." After examination he was committed to gaol, where he lay fifteen weeks and then was prevailed on by his friends to make his escape and to absent himself until the consternation should abate, and the people recover the use of their reason."

No. 40. I. E. EBENEZER ALDEN,*

a Physician of distinguished reputation in Randolph, in Mass. was born at Stafford, in Conn. 4 July, 1755. He was a son of Daniel Alden, Esq. of Lebanon, in New Hamp-

* The following is from a sketch drawn by the Rev. Dr. Strong, pastor of the church and congregation in Randolph:

“ Having gone through a regular course of study, preparatory to the practice of physic, he removed to Braintree, (now Randolph,) Mass. in the year 1781, where he commenced the duties of his profession. These he discharged with reputation to himself, and with great usefulness to his employers. His circle of business, though small at first, gradually increased, until it became very extensive.

As a Physician, he was remarkably attentive, prudent, and successful. During the latter part of his life, his advice was sought and much respect-shire, and grandson of Daniel Alden, whose name stands at the head of the preceding article. The subject of this article received his academical education at Plainfield, under the tuition of Ebenezer Pemberton, Esq. a gentleman, who, for his urbanity, talents, acquirements, and wonderful ability in his profession, is greatly esteemed and venerated by all who have ever had the honour and the happiness to be under his instruction, and whose numerous pupils, not a few have risen to the most elevated rank, in Church and State. He married his wife from one of the first families in Randolph, (Sarah, daughter of Col. Jonathan Bass, and also a descendant of the Hon. John Alden. See Bass, Nos. 32 and 34,) by whom he had two sons and one daughter, viz : Ebenezer, Henry Bass, and Susan.

ed by his brethren of the faculty in his vicinity. No Physician, in this part of the country, possessed the love and confidence of his patients to a higher degree. This was evident from the universal sorrow occasioned among them by his death. They felt as though they had lost, not only their able and beloved Physician, but a most important friend and useful member of society. Such indeed was the subject of this biographical sketch."

Amidst all the rage of political party spirit, he never betrayed the interests of his country. He was a disciple of Washington, whose principles he revered and uniformly supported. As a husband, Dr. Alden was kind and affectionate ; as a parent, tender and faithful. He was a firm, unshaken believer in the truth of divine revelation, for about twenty years previous to his death, a member of the Church of Christ. He was never absent from public worship on the Lord's day, unless imperious necessity required it. He believed in the necessity of regeneration by the special influence of the Holy Spirit, in order to future happiness. A hope that he had experienced such an internal change, and was interested in the merits of the Redeemer, supported him during his last sickness, and enabled him to meet death with coolness and fortitude. He was not only a Christian in theory but in practice. Whenever he conversed about himself, he did it with the greatest modesty and self abasement. Instead of resembling the bold confident professor, who generally out-lives his religion and deeply wounds the cause of Christ, he resembled the little trembling tree which often takes the deepest root in the garden of the Lord and bears the most and best ripe fruit.

The writer of these memoirs, who was intimately acquainted with the subject of them for many years has seldom known a person who appeared to act more conscientiously in the various concerns of life, and whose daily conduct would better bear the test of examination. He proved the sincerity of his faith by his works.

In his dying address to his children he earnestly exhorted them to seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, assuring them that if they did thus, all other needful things would be added. In truth it may be said he has left behind him that good name which is better than precious ointment. "Mark the perfect man and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace."—[Alden's Collection. 3, 29].

*Lieut. Alden, like some others of the name, and like many of the descendants from the pilgrims of Leyden, had a great fondness for the history of New England.

The hazardous enterprize, the uncommon trials, the exquisite sufferings, the noble christian heroism of those venerable worthies, who forsook the endearments of their native land, and fled to this western world, the haunt of savages and beasts of prey, and encountered hardships, which would have immortalized a Roman band, were subjects, which deeply interested his feelings, as they invariably must those of every one, who is a friend to liberty of conscience, and to religion, pure and undefiled.

He was a farmer of intelligence, and blessed with that competence which is vital to content. He enjoyed the society of his friends and was much esteemed by all who knew him.

From 1756 to the beginning of 1809 he kept an accurate bill of mortality for the South parish of Bridgewater, from which it appears that that part of our country is remarkable for longevity. This fact will be duly noticed in a historical discourse which Dr. Sanger is preparing against the close of the first century from the gathering of the church in that parish.—[Alden's Col. 2, 210.

EPITAPH.

Beneath are deposited the remains of Lieut. Joshua Alden, who died 21st March 1809 in the 80th year of his age.

He led a sober and regular life, was a friend to peace and good order, a steady attendant on public worship and a valuable member of society.

In his last will and testament, after some deductions, he bequeathed a tenth part of his property to the South congregational society in Bridgewater, of which one hundred dollars were for the use of the church, of which he was a member, two hundred dollars for the encouragement of psalmody, and the remainder for the fund of said society.

To perpetuate his memory and to express the gratitude due to an example so worthy of imitation, it has been thought fit to erect this monument.

* HIS EPITAPH.

In memory of Capt. SETH ALDEN, who departed this life 6 September, 1784, in the 75th year of his age.

The corpse in silent darkness lies,
Our friend is gone, the Captain dies !
In peace he lived, in peace he died :
Sleeps sweetly by his consort's side.
In this dark cell, they both must lie,
Till th' archangel rends the sky,
And saints ascend to Christ on high.

He settled in Ashfield.

No. 62. IX C. JOHN ALDEN, son of John and Hannah Alden, was the subject of the following memoir, which was published in the Christian Watchman, of April 14, 1821, as follows :

In Middleborough, the venerable John Alden, in the 103d year of his age. His great grandfather, whose name he bore, as did also his grandfather* and father, was one of the first settlers of New England, being one of the number who accompanied the Rev. Mr. Robinson† from Europe to America in 1620, and is said to have been the man who first stepped upon the Plymouth Rock. His grand mother was the daughter of Mr. Peregrine White,‡ who was the first male child born in New England. Mr. Alden was married young, and his first wife, by whom he had five children, died at the age of 27. By his second and last wife he had 14 children. His descendants are 19 children—62 grand children—134 great grand children, and 7 of the fifth generation, 47 of this number we believe have deceased, and 172 are now living. When his century sermon was preached, he is understood to have said that he had read through his bible in course as many times as he was years old. He retained his bodily strength and mental energy to a remarkable degree. When more than one hundred years old, he would converse with great propriety upon religion, and occasionally repeat whole chapters and quote numerous passages from the sacred scriptures. He was the oldest man in the Old Colony, and probably the oldest in the Commonwealth. He had been a professor of religion and connected with a church upwards of 78 years, and was probably the oldest church member in the United States. “We understand,” says the editor of the Old Colony Ga-

*His grandfather was Joseph Alden of Bridgewater. (See No. 19.)

zette, "that his likeness was taken by a skillful portrait painter a few weeks before his death, to be deposited in the gallery of curiosities belonging to the Pilgrim Society, at Plymouth."

The above memoir was probably taken from a manuscript book of the venerable John Alden, now in possession of Solomon Alden, Jr. Esq. of Bridgewater.

No. 63. XIII C. Rev. NOAH ALDEN, the youngest son of John and Hannah Alden, was born in that part of Middleborough, called Titiquot, 31 May, 1725, and in time of a great revival of religion in 1741, became a convert, and, soon after, a preacher of the gospel of the baptist denomination. He was ordained over a society in Stafford, on the 5 June, 1755, and held his pastoral relation in that place for ten years. He was dismissed by the advice of a council, 28 August, 1765. He then travelled and preached in various places till he was installed in Bellingham, 12 November, 1766, where he was useful, as long as he lived. In December, 1763, he went through Woodstock and only preached one sermon there, but it was blessed for the conversion of one young man, who had been a leader in vanity, and he then became so in religion, and was afterwards a minister of the gospel.

"Mr. Alden was a member of the convention which formed the Massachusetts' constitution of government, and so he was of that which adopted the constitution of the United States. But the affairs of the church of Christ, and watching for souls, as one who must give an account to God, were his great concern, until he died, with great peace of mind, 5 May, 1797, nearly 72 years old."

The subject of this article married Joanna Vaughan, by whom he had three sons and several daughters.

[Alden's Collection. 3, 66.]

No. 64. III A. DAVID ALDEN,

the third son of Hon. John Alden, was the representative of Duxbury for a number of years, in the Old Colony Court, and in 1690 one of the assistants. He had two sons, Benjamin and Samuel, and one daughter Alice, who was married 5 December, 1706, to Judah Paddock of Yarmouth, now Dennis, grandfather of the present Judah Paddock, Esq.

No. 65. I B. BENJAMIN ALDEN, had four sons and one daughter, Mary, who was the wife of Doct. John Wadsworth, and the mother of John Wadsworth, A. M. a much beloved tutor at Harvard College. The sons of Benjamin Alden, were David, Bezaleel, Wrestling, and Abiathar ; the first and last of whom removed to the District of Maine. Abiathar, a Physician, and a man of uncommon metaphysical talents, to Scarborough, the other two spent their days in their native place.

[Alden's Collection. 3, 267.]

No. 66. II B. Capt. SAMUEL ALDEN,* was the second son of David Alden, and brother of Benjamin Alden, before mentioned. He was the father of Col. Ichabod Alden, a brave revolutionary officer, who fell at the time of the destruction of Cherry Valley.

No. 67. IV A. Capt. JONATHAN ALDEN,†

the fourth son of the Hon. John Alden, inherited and occupied the ancient homestead. He died in February, 1697, at the age of about 70 years. From the Duxbury records it appears that he married Abigail Ralat, 10 Dec. 1672, by whom he had four sons,

* It is a remarkable circumstance that Capt. Samuel Alden, and Mrs. Alice Paddock, his sister, two of the grand children of one of the first settlers of the Old Colony, should have been upon the stage at the commencement of the revolutionary war. They lived to see the country peopled with three millions of white inhabitants, and successfully opposing the ungenerous usurpation and tyranny of the parent empire. Had any one told the first adventurers, who were often in the utmost jeopardy from their surrounding enemies, that some of their grand children would live to witness such an astonishing population in the vast and dreary region which they beheld, overspread with unknown numbers of savages and beasts of prey, and establishing national liberty and independence, they would have considered it as a thing utterly improbable, if not totally impossible.

This gentleman was remarkable for his strength of mind, soundness of judgment, and exemplary deportment through life. He was a pious man, and was ever cheerful through the Christian hope which he had attained. He lived till he was impatient to depart and enter a happier state, though he suffered but little bodily distress.

"In memory of Capt. Samuel Alden, who died 24 February, 1781, aged 92 years, 2 months and 3 days."—[Ibid. 3, 274.]

†Capt. Jonathan Alden was buried under arms, 17 February, 1697, on which occasion an address was delivered at the grave, by the Rev. Ichabod Wiswall of Duxbury ; a copy of which is still preserved, and from which the following paragraphs are selected :

"Neighbors and friends, we are assembled this day in a posture of mourning, to solemnize the funeral of the present deceased ; to pay our last tribute of respect to a person well known among us. I need not enlarge upon his character, but in brief am bold to say thus much. He stepped over his youth without the usual stains of vanity. In his riper years, he improved himself a good Commonwealth's man, and which is the crown of all, a sincere christian; one whose heart was in the house of God, even when his body was barred thence by the restraints of many difficulties which confined him at home. He could say in truth, Lord I have loved the habitation of thy house. He earnestly desired the enlargement of Jerusalem, and inwardly lamented that the ways to Zion did mourn, because so few did flock to her solemn feasts, but is now united to that general assembly, where is no more cause of sorrow on that account.

No. 68. I B. ANDREW ALDEN,

“As to his quality in our militia, he was a leader, and I dare say, rather loved, than feared of his company, etc. etc.

“Fellow Soldiers, you are come to lay your leader in the dust, to lodge him in his quiet and silent repose. You are no more to follow him in the field. No sound of rallying drum, nor shrillest trumpet will awaken him till the general muster, when the Son of God will cause that trumpet to be blown, whose echoes shall shake the foundations of the heavens and the earth, and raise the dead!

“Fellow Soldiers, you have followed him into the field, appeared in your arms, stood your ground, marched, countermarched, made ready, advanced, fired, and retreated, and all at his command. You have been conformable to his military commands and postures, and it is to your credit. But let me tell you, this day he has acted one posture before your eyes, and you are all at a stand! No man stirs a foot after him: but the day is hastening wherein you must all conform to his present posture, I mean, be laid in the dust.”

After offering various serious exhortations, with many scriptural references, Mr. Wiswall concludes his address in this manner:

“Fellow Soldiers, Oh, consider how dreadful it will prove, if, after you have, with a matchless bravery of spirit, acted the part of soldiers on earth, you should in the mean time, forget your christian armour and discipline, and be numbered among those mentioned in Ezek. 32—26, 27, who, having been the terror of the mighty in the land of the living, yet went down to hell with their weapons of war, their iniquities remaining upon their bones! which, that you may all escape, follow your deceased leader as he followed Christ, and then, though death may, for a short space of time, tyrannize over your frail bodies in the grave, yet you shall rise with him in triumph, when the great trumpet shall sound, and appear listed in the muster roll of the Prince of the Kings of the earth, the Captain of our eternal salvation.—[Alden's Collection, 3, 276.

No. 72. V A. ELIZABETH ALDEN, the oldest daughter of the Hon. John Alden, was the wife of William Paybody of Little Compton, in the state of Rhode Island.

The following paragraph is from the Boston News-Letter, 17 June, 1717, and is retained in Judge Sewall's Phœnomena Quædam Apocalyptica, published in 1727, in connexion with sundry other statements, in evidence of the longevity of the first settlers of the Old Colony, and of their immediate descendants :

"Little Compton, 31 May. This morning died here, Mrs. Elizabeth Paybody, late wife of Mr. William Paybody, in the 93d year of her age. She was a daughter of John Alden, Esq. and Priscilla his wife, daughter of Mr. William Mullins. NOTE.—While the memorial of Plymouth survives, the name of Alden, a brief account of whom is found in Eliot and Allen, cannot be forgotten. * "It appears by his last will, (attested by Benjamin Albee and Richard Bracket,) that he had a wife then living, and a daughter Ursula. Of them there is no notice upon the town records. They may have removed with some of the brothers and died in another town."

Henry Adams was buried on the 8 of October, 1646.

† "He was the first Town Clerk of Braintree. He soon afterwards removed to Medfield with three of his brothers, Peter, Edward, and Jonathan, and was the first Town Clerk there as he had been at Braintree. He had four children born in Medfield."

"His brothers, Samuel and Thomas, settled in Chelmsford, and were among the earliest settlers of that town, which was incorporated in 1655. If any one of the brothers returned to England, as stated by Alden and others, it must have been John, of whom there is no further trace in this country."

‡ Mr. J. Q. Adams says, "He was a Maltster by trade, as I believe the first Henry had been, and as their descendants continued to be till within the memory of my father. He bequeathed by his will a considerable estate for those times, to eight children, three sons, Joseph, John, and Peter, and five daughters, Hannah Savill, Abigail Bass, Bethiah Webb, Mary Bass, and Mehitable Adams, who afterwards, 21 July, 1697, married Thomas White, Jr. of Braintree. The Dwelling House, Malt House, and the bulk of the property were left to Peter, the youngest son, who was also constituted sole Executor of the will. The elder sons, Joseph and John, had doubtless had some provision made for them before. To Joseph, the eldest son, the bequest is only of one acre of salt meadow. To John, who was a merchant in Boston, forty pounds sterling, and ten bushels of apples a year from the farm bequeathed to Peter, whenever John should send to fetch them. To Mehitable, twenty pounds sterling, the parlor chamber, feather bed and the furniture belonging to it, and the right to live in the house given to Peter, as long as she should live a Maid." He served at different times in the town offices of Surveyor of Highways and of Selectman. On the 10th of April, 1673, he was associated in this latter office with Edmund Quincy. His son John, who removed to Boston, was the father of Samuel Adams, (See No. 33,) and grandfather of the distinguished Patriot of that name.

Joseph Adams died 6 Dec. 1694, aged 68.

Abigail Adams died 27 Aug. 1692, aged 58.

The following was from the pen of His Excellency John Quincy Adams, with many of the remarks relating to the genealogy of this family :

The statement in Alden's Collection, that the first Henry Adams came with his family from Devonshire, was received by the Collector of the Epitaphs from my father, but I believe it was not from Devonshire, but from Braintree in the County of Essex, that he came. My father supposed that they formed a part of the company that came with Gov. Winthrop, in 1630, most of whom were from Devonshire, but at the time when my father formed this opinion, Gov. Winthrop's Journal had not been published, and he had never seen it. The evidence upon which my opinion is founded is contained in that book. When Winthrop and his company arrived in June, 1630, Mount Wollaston was in possession of Thomas Morton. In Savage's edition of Winthrop's Journal, vol. 1, p. 34, is the following entry, under date of 30 September, 1630.

1630. Thomas Morton adjudged to be imprisoned, till he were sent into England and his house burnt down, for his many injuries offered to the Indians and other misdemeanors.

Governor Dudley's letter to the Countess of Lincoln, dated 28 March, 1631, expressly says that the settlement at Mount Wollaston had vanished away. 1. Hist. Collections, 8, 37.

1632, 14 August. "The Braintree company, (which had begun to sit down at Mount Wollaston,) by order of Court removed to Newtown. These were Mr. Hooker's Company." Savage's Winthrop's Journal, 1, 37.

to appear before the Court of High Commission. He forfeited his bonds which were paid by a subscription among his flock, and took refuge in Holland, where he preached at Amsterdam and at Rotterdam for the space of two years. He then returned to England, and embarked clandestinely for New England. He arrived in September, 1633. His Company from Chelmsford and the neighboring village of Braintree, had arrived the year before, and it is of them that Winthrop speaks in the above extract from his Journal.

They had begun it seems to sit down at Mount Wollaston, but by order of the General Court, were removed to Newtown, where on the 11th of October, 1633, Mr. Hooker was chosen the Pastor. But at the General Court at Boston, 15 May, 1634, "those of Newtown complained of straitness for want of land, especially meadow, and desired leave of the Court to look out either for enlargement or removal, which was granted."

[Journal, p. 132.

And in September, 1634, this straitness for want of lands, caused the first application of Mr. Hooker and part of his company to remove to Hartford, which was afterwards effected. In the mean time at the General Court assembled on this occasion at Newtown, 3 Sept. 1634, it was ordered that Boston should have enlargement at Mount Wollaston and Rumney Marsh—Mount Wollaston became thereby a part of the town of Boston. On the 11 December, 1634, and again on the 18, the inhabitants of Boston chose seven men to make division of the Town Lands in the Bay.

[Journal, 1, 152.

1636, 8 Sept. "The inhabitants of Boston who had taken their farms and lots at Mount Wollaston, finding it very burdensome to have their business, &c. so far off, desired to gather a Church there—many meetings were about it. The great let was in regard it was given to Boston for upholding the town and Church there, which end would be frustrated by the removal of so many chief men as would go thither. For helping of this it was propounded that such as dwelt there should pay six pence the acre yearly, for such lands as lay within a mile of the water, and three pence for that which lay further off." 1639, 17 Sept. a Church was gathered at the Mount.—[Journal, 1, 308.

Mount Wollaston had been formerly laid to Boston, but many poor men having lots assigned them there, and not able to use those lands and dwell still in Boston, they petitioned the town first, to have a minister there, and after to have leave to gather a church there, which the town at length, (upon some small composition,) gave way unto—so this day they gathered a church after the usual manner, and chose one Mr. Thomson, a very gracious, sincere man, and Mr. Flint, a godly man also, their ministers.

titution of the inhabitants of Mount Wollaston was voted, and granted them to be a town according to the agreement with Boston, and the town to be called Braintree.—[Hancock's Sermons, p. 21.]

Lastly, the Wonder Working Providence, published in London in 1654, which gives a particular account of the first churches gathered in New England, and says under date of the year 1640, "About this time there was a Town and Church planted at Mount Wollaston and named Braintree; it was occasioned by some old planters and certain Farmers belonging to the great Town of Boston; they had formerly one Mr. Wheelwright to preach unto them, (till this Government could no longer contain them,) they many of them in the mean time belonging to the Church of Christ at Boston, but after his departure, they gathered into a Church themselves, having some enlargement of land, they began to be well peopled, calling to office among them the Reverend and Godly Mr. William Thomson, and Mr. Henry Flint, the one to the office of a Pastor, the other of a Teacher.—[Wonder Working Providence, Chap. 18, p. 161.]

Comparing together these extracts, it appears to me highly probable that the Braintree company mentioned by Winthrop in 1632, as having begun to settle at Mount Wollaston, did not remove to Newtown, or at least remained, most of them, where they had begun to settle. That they were the old planters mentioned by the Wonder Working Providence, and that it was at their solicitation that the name Braintree, the place in England, whence they came, was given to the town.

son of Joseph and Hannah Adams, was graduated at Harvard College, in 1710, and that same year kept the town school in Braintree. The 16 Nov. 1715, he was settled in the Ministry at Newington, N. H. which station he sustained for 67 years, and died 26 May, 1783, aged 93 years.

Allen's Biographical Dictionary mentions him as a Minister remarkable for longevity—and notices two of his sermons that were published. He was, while he lived, eminent in his profession, and there are respectable descendants from him still residing in New Hampshire.

In his father's will, dated 23 July, 1731, he says, "I have given my son Joseph Adams a Liberal Education, and do hereby further give to him, his heirs, &c. five pounds to be paid in money by my Executors, within one year after my decease." The will mentions also the sons Samuel and Josiah, having been provided with portions, and leaves them small bequests. He gives most of his estate to the two sons John and Ebenezer, whom he constitutes jointly his Executors.

† In the History of Quincy, by the Rev. George Whitney, is the following Memoir of this distinguished Patriot of the Revolution:

"John Adams, son of John Adams, senior, a respectable and valued citizen of this place, born 19 Oct. (Old Style,) 1735.

No. 11. I E. ABIGAIL ADAMS, was married to the Hon. William Smith of New York, by whom she had three children, viz.

- | | | |
|---------------------|--|---------------------|
| 1. William Steuben, | | 3. Caroline Amelia, |
| 2. John Adams, | | |

She died 15 August, 1813, at the age of 48 years. Before her death she removed to Quincy.

His life was one of the most eventful recorded in the annals of history, and his name will ever be remembered among the benefactors of his country, and among the glorious asserters of the rights of man. When quite young he was not distinguished for an ardent love of learning, to which he afterwards so severely applied himself. Study was rather an irksome task to him; and to those acquainted with his youthful spirit, books seemed but the fetters of a mind, in coming years destined to work wonders in the cause of freedom. It has been most justly observed, that man is in a great measure the creature of accidental circumstance, and never perhaps was this remark more clearly illustrated, than in the history of the early life of John Adams.

To those who knew any thing of the last days of this great man, it is wholly unnecessary to mention how great were his conversational powers, and that to all who were so fortunate as to listen to him, the fund of anecdote from which he drew for their instruction, no less than entertainment, was inexhaustible. It was his delight to speak of interesting incidents, which had been connected with himself, not through vanity or ostentation, for these were not a part of his nature, but to bring conviction to the mind, that of much that was considered abstract truth, there were found sensible illustrations in common life. The following anecdote, related by him, even to the last days of his life, with all that good humour, which was so characteristic of him, it is presumed, has not yet passed away from the minds of many who have heard it from his own lips; a few only of his strong expressions are remembered.

"When I was a boy, I had to study the Latin Grammar, but it was dull and I hated it. My father was anxious to send me to College, and therefore I studied the Grammar till I could bear with it no longer; and going to my father, I told him I did not like study, and asked for some other employment. It was opposing his wishes and he was quick in his answer, "Well John," said he, "if Latin Grammar does not suit you, you may try ditching, perhaps that will; my meadow yonder needs a ditch, and you may put by Latin and try that." This seemed a delightful change, and to the meadow I went. But I soon found ditching harder than Latin, and the first forenoon was the longest I ever experienced. That day I eat the bread of labour, and glad was I when night came on. That night I made some comparison between Latin Grammar and ditching, but said not a word about it. I dug the next forenoon, and wanted to return to Latin at dinner, but it was humiliating, and I could not do it. At night, toil conquered pride, and I told my father, one of the severest trials of my life, that if he chose, I would go back to Latin Grammar. He was glad of it, and if I have since gained any distinction, it has been owing to the two days labour in that abominable ditch."

He was prepared for College in the school of Mr. Joseph Marsh, then a distinguished instructor in this place, and was graduated at Harvard University in 1755. After leaving College, he kept a school in the town of Worcester; studied law with Col. James Putnam of the same place, and

“He was graduated at Harvard University in 1787, and appointed Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory, in the same institution in 1806. He was sent Minister to several of the Courts of Europe, filled other important offices in Government, was made Secretary of State by President Munroe, in 1817, and in 1825 was President of the United States.”

Representative to the General Court from that city, in 1826.

while engaged in this study, wrote his famous letter, so prophetic of the greatness of his country.

In his profession he became early distinguished, and was appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. He was foremost among that band of Patriots, who laid the foundation of the Independence of our Country. His conduct in the cause of Preston, with his friend Josiah Quincy, Jr. would of itself have made his fame enduring.

He was a member of the first Congress, in 1774, and was the bold adviser of the Declaration of Independence. He was chosen on the committee to draft that paper, and eloquently defended it. He was sent Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court of France, the same to the United Provinces, and was many years the American Minister in France and England. In 1789 he was chosen Vice President of the U. S. and in 1797 was chosen President. In 1817 he was chosen one of the electors for the choice of President. In 1820 he was sent by his native town to the convention for the purpose of amending the Constitution. He was elected President of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences; had been a member of various other societies—filled the most important stations in the gift of the people, and received the highest honours from our Universities and Colleges.

The latter part of his life was spent in private retirement. As an orator, he was one of the most powerful his country ever beheld. It was the remark of Thomas Jefferson, that on the subject of the Independence of the Colonies, John Adams, by his eloquence, “moved us from our seats.” In learning he was profound, and in religious knowledge surpassed the Theologians of his age. He died at 6 o'clock, P. M. on the 4th of July, 1826, in the XCI year of his age.

The remarkable circumstance of his death, as well as that of his co-patriot and friend, Thomas Jefferson, on the same day, are too well known to need further remark. It may be worth while to mention, that previous to the fourth of July, he had been solicited to give a sentiment for his fellow townsmen at that days' celebration. “I will give,” said he, “Independence forever.” On being asked if he would add any thing, he answered, “not a syllable. This sentiment was drank amidst the united acclamations of his fellow townsmen, perhaps at the very moment when his spirit was returning to God who gave it.—[History of Quincy.]

Adams, is taken from the Massachusetts Mercury of March 8th 1799.

“Died at Stoughton 25th ult. Rev. Jedidiah Adams, senior pastor of the church in that town; having just entered the 89th year of his age, and almost completed the 53d of his ministry.

“The memory of this venerable man is too precious to fall into oblivion, and his character too worthy for the common brevity of newspaper eulogy.

“He was born at Braintree, (now Quincy) on the 21st of Jan. O. S. 1711.
He received the honours of Harvard University in 1733. After making choice of the clerical profession, he preached for several years, as a candidate, in various places. This gave him an opportunity of travelling, and forming an extensive acquaintance with the literary and other respectable characters in New England, and in other parts of the United States. Naturally inquisitive, he acquired, in addition to a large fund of academical knowledge, a correct knowledge of mankind. Constitutionally mild and benevolent, he was easily formed to a candid and liberal mode of thinking.
His manners soft, modest, and unassuming, received the finishing touch of genuine politeness. It may truly be said of him, that he was learned without pedantry, polite without affectation, moral without austerity, pious without superstition, and devout without enthusiasm.

In the year 1145, after receiving several invitations to settle in the work of the ministry, in other places, he accepted one at Stoughton; and was ordained Feb. 19th, O. S. 1746. The parish was then new, (Mr. Adams being the first minister,) contained but few inhabitants, and was in some respects, an ineligible situation. Two circumstances however, appear to have rendered the place agreeable to his taste; it was a place of retirement, and at the same time in the vicinity of Boston, and the seat of the Muses.

“His good sense, prudence, and exemplary piety endeared him to the people of his charge. He had many friends, and few, perhaps, no enemies, except those who were enemies to virtue.

“Relatively to his political opinions, he was like his brethren, the clergy of New England, a friend to liberty with order. He advocated American Independence, and was a firm supporter of the Federal Constitution, and the Constitution of this state. In regard to the latter, he took an active part, being a member of the convention by which it was framed.

“During the last seven years of his life, he was called from the duties of his profession, by indisposition of body, and the infirmities usually attendant on old age. With a disposition, however, naturally placid and serene, meliorated by divine grace, old age did not render him querulous; but though burdened with years, and frequently exercised with great pain and distress, he was remarkable for tranquility, the enjoyment of himself and his friends. After a few days of painful illness, which he endured with that christian patience, for which he was always distinguished, he expired. As he lived greatly beloved, so he died greatly lamented. ‘Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace.’”

The town and parish Records of Medfield, Chelmsford, Medway, Milton, Bellingham, Stoughton, Newington, N. H., Mendon and other ancient towns of New England, would probably furnish numerous further notices of births, marriages and deaths in the family.

The Patriarch Henry Adams was not the only one of the name, even in the earliest settlement of the country. There was a John Adams at Plymouth in 1621, a Jeremy Adams at Cambridge in 1632, a William at Cambridge in 1635, a Nathaniel at Weymouth in 1640. Ferdinando (at Dedham whose children were Abigail born 1639, Bethia 1640, Nathaniel 1642) “Christopher, Alexander, all of whom appear in the lists of freemen about the time, and none of whom have left any trace of kindred with Henry or his eight sons. Many of the name, now living, are doubtless descendants from them.”—[J. Q. Adams.]

----------------------------	----------------------------

No. 24. Isaac Bass, settled in Braintree, Vermont, where he died, leaving children.

No. 25. Ziba Bass, is the subject of the following Memoir :

After having completed his professional studies under the tuition of Dr. Ebenezer Alden, of Randolph, he commenced the practice of Medicine in the North parish of Bridgewater, under the most favorable auspices, with the fairest prospects of usefulness to his fellow men. His pleasing address, his affectionate and amiable disposition, his unwearied attention to the welfare of his patients ; his assiduity in search of knowledge, and his constant and undeviating fidelity in all the duties of his profession, won the affections and established the confidence of a numerous class of the community in the circle of his acquaintance. But soon and suddenly he was called away from his earthly labors, leaving a weeping multitude to deplore his loss.

At his interment, the Rev. Dr. Strong, of Randolph, delivered a funeral sermon, from which the following extract is made :

“ There we behold the ruins of mortality ! There are the lifeless remains of one of our fellow creatures, who but a few days since was numbered among the living, and under circumstances of health and prosperity ! Where is the person, who two weeks since, would have marked him out as an earlier victim for the grave than any of his neighbors, friends or acquaintance ? He had, for aught we knew to the contrary, as fair prospects of long life as any one of this numerous assembly. But alas ! He is gone !

His work on earth is finished ! How uncertain is life ! How true the observation, that the grave is 'without any order.' How mysterious are the ways of Providence ! Why should such a fixed enemy to all vice, such a friend to morality, order and regularity in society ; such an industrious, economical, useful, prudent, faithful, modest, friendly, amiable, and we hope truly pious man, as was DR. BASS, be cut down in the midst of his days and usefulness, while so many of a totally different character are spared. Such dispensations of Providence are involved in clouds and darkness. But it becomes short sighted mortals to be still ; to know and rejoice that the Lord God omnipotent reigneth ; who is infinite in every possible perfection, is under no temptation to do wrong ; who has adopted the wisest and best system of government ; who will bring order out of disorder, regularity out of confusion, and good out of evil, and will not only overrule all things for the highest good of the moral system, but for the best good of every one, who makes him the supreme object of his affection and confidence."

ERECTED TO THE MEMORY

DOCTOR ZIBA BASS,

who died September 23, A. D. 1804, and in the 31st year of his age.

Giving full proof that usefulness was his grand object in life.

He was a pattern of Modesty, Temperance, Fidelity, Prudence, Economy, and Uprightness, and died in hope of eternal rest and glory.

Hence the following appropriation :

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, from henceforth, yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them."

No. 41. IV D. EDWARD BASS,* D. D.

son of Joseph and Elizabeth Bass, the first Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Eastern Diocese, was graduated at Harvard College, in 1744. He married, for his first wife, Sarah Beck.

His second wife was Mercy Bass, a grand daughter of his uncle Alden Bass, and settled at Newburyport.

* At his decease, the following character appeared in the newspapers of that date, printed in that town.

"Edward Bass, D. D. was born at Dorchester, near Boston, on the 23d day of November, 1726. At the early age of 13 he entered Harvard College, and commenced Bachelor of Arts at that seminary, in 1744. From this period until he received the degree of Master of Arts, he was engaged in instructing a school, occupying his leisure hours in such studies as were suitable to the profession for which he was intended. From 1747 to 1751, he resided at the college, making progress in the theological studies, and occasionally supplying vacant pulpits in the congregational churches. In 1752, at the invitation of the Episcopal Society in this place, he went to England, and on the 24th day of May, was ordained by the excellent Dr. Thomas Sherlock, then Bishop of London, in his chapel at Fulham. In the autumn of the same year he returned to New England, and soon after took charge of the Church in Newbury, at that time vacant by the death of the Reverend Matthias Plant.

"In July, 1789, the University of Pennsylvania conferred on him the degree of Doctor in Divinity. In 1796, he was unanimously elected by the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Churches of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to the office of Bishop of that Church, and was accordingly consecrated in Christ Church, on the 7th day of May, 1797, by the Bishops of Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland. On the 27th day of the same month he was received and acknowledged in the most affectionate and respectful manner, by the Clergy of his Diocese, then assembled in Trinity Church, Boston. Some time after, the Episcopal churches in the state of Rhode Island, elected him their Bishop, and the last summer, a convention of the churches in New Hampshire, also put themselves under his jurisdiction.

"Bishop Bass was a sound divine, a critical scholar, an accomplished gentleman and an exemplary Christian. His manners were polished, his disposition amiable, his temper mild, his conversation improving, his benevolence warm, his piety uniform, his charity unlimited. For more than fifty years, he sacredly devoted all his talents to his great Lord and Master, in the affectionate and diligent cultivation of that portion of the gospel-vineyard committed to his care. Seriously impressed with a sense of the duties of his station, nothing short of necessity formed in his mind an apology for the omission of them. In his public discourses, he aimed at plainness and usefulness. From subjects the least connected with practical topics, he rarely failed to draw something calculated to mend the hearts or the manners of his hearers. He had nothing of that new-fangled candor, which looks with equal indifference on all opinions, even on the most important subjects. With the most scrupulous respect for the rights of conscience and of private judgment in others, he united a firm and unshaken adherence to that system of christian doctrine and discipline, which he had adopted from conviction. In his devotions, he led his people with the winning example of piety, chastened in its manner with the most temperate gravity, never relaxing into formality, nor strained into enthusiasm. Although from principle, as well as habit, he was zealously attached to the forms prescribed by the church, yet on occasions out of the ordinary course, he exhibited in his devotional compositions, a talent rarely equalled, and never excelled, by those whose mode of worship authorizes and requires extemporaneous addresses to the Deity.

"In private life, Dr. Bass was uniformly amiable and respectable, and this inspired all his associates with affection and reverence; keeping always in view the decorum of his station in society, he did not morosely abstain from the innocent relaxations of life, but by cheerfully joining in decent and moderate festivity, he taught others how far it was safe to indulge and prudent to restrain.

"But it was in the elevated station of a diocesan, that the character of this excellent man was most fully displayed. Anxious above all things to approve himself to the great Head of the Church, his humility grew with the honors conferred upon him by his brethren. So far was he from claiming the distinctions appertaining to his rank, that he did not receive them without sensible pain, and constantly exhibited a winning example of meekness and gentleness, which gave lustre to all his virtues. Though at some periods of his life he was severely tried, he maintained a moderation and forbearance, which checked the rage of party, and fortified him against sufferings, which a mind less correct must have undergone, in similar situations.

"Blest by nature with a vigorous constitution, which he judiciously preserved by temperance and exercise, he enjoyed an uncommon share of health, through the greatest part of his life. On the 10th inst. after an illness of but two days, he died as he had lived, full of piety, resignation and humility; and is doubtless now receiving the rewards of a long and diligent life, spent in the service of his God and his fellow men."

"He graduated in 1793." "He resided at Princeton until the spring of 1798, when he returned to Philadelphia and was ordained in the month of June, by Bishop White." "He accepted the charge of Trinity Church Oxford, and All Saints, Pequestan." "He accepted an invitation to Christ Church, New Brunswick, in 1799." "He afterwards settled at Hempstead on Long Island. In the spring of 1800, he married Mary Goodin Chandler, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Chandler, formerly Rector of St. John's Church, Elizabethtown, N. J." [Memoir of Bishop Hobart. Extracts.

"The strong attachment of Mr Hobart to the distinctive principles of the Episcopal Church, and his bold, active and persevering defence of them, at all times, through good and through evil report, were striking peculiarities in his character and life. He was constantly endeavouring to rouse others to a sense of their importance, and by his indefatigable labours, his noble enthusiasm, even in the cause of soberness and truth, and the influence of his talents, character, and station, he revived the languid zeal of Episcopalians, gave a new tone to their sentiments in this diocese, and stamped the impress of his own mind and feelings on thousands throughout the Church at large. "Pro Ecclesia Dei, he adopted in as full a sense as the "venerable prelate, (Whitgift,) by whom these words were first chosen, as the standard of his wishes, his duties, his labours, his dying prayers."

"There are no means of ascertaining what gave this strong bent to his mind in regard to the distinguishing principles of the Church : he was nurtured in her bosom indeed, but at a very early period of his life he was removed to a Presbyterian College, withdrawn for many years from the services of his own communion, and evidently estranged in a measure from his "first love," though it was never entirely discarded or forgotten. While acting as a tutor at Princeton, he performed in his turn the prescribed services in the chapel, according to the Presbyterian mode ; but he was always apprehensive of the dangerous influence of his residence at that institution, on his attachment to the Church, and with a view, perhaps, of fortifying himself in her principles, he often entered into discussions on these points, with Dr. Smith, and Mr. Kollock, in which he was aided and sustained by some of his Episcopal friends. Perhaps this very circumstance of contending with the President, who was so greatly his superior in age and attainments, may have led him to a stricter examination of the subject, than he would have otherwise made, with a view to a more able and successful defence. But his warm, decided and unchangeable attachment to the Church, in her peculiar and distinctive character, must, no doubt, be chiefly attributed to the course of his reading in the further progress of his ecclesiastical studies."—[Ibid, 88.

1830, 12 Sept. Bishop Hobart of New York, died at Auburn, Cayuga County, on a visitation of his diocese.

* Capt. Thomas Prentice of Newtown, that renounced partizan Commander of horse, was one among others, whom the Divine Providence raised up and qualified for distinguished usefulness in the Phillipic war, in 1675. Capt. Prentice was active and eminently serviceable in every period of the war; his name was a terror to the hostile tribes of Indians, by his suddenly collecting and marching his cavalry at the shortest notice, fighting on horseback or on foot, as the nature of the ground or the situation of the enemy required. *****

The gallant Prentice, who at the age of 54 began his military career, survived until 7 July, 1709, when he died aged 89, by a similar casualty with his brave companion in arms, Col. Church, in consequence of a fall from his horse, upon his return from public worship Lord's day, 7 May. He was buried with the respect due to so good a man, as well as brave defender of his country, by the troop under arms.

On the footstone of his grave are inscribed the following lines, which the teeth of time have almost effaced :—

He that's here interred needs no versifying—
A virtuous life will keep the name from dying;
He'll live though poets cease their scribbling rhyme,
When that this stone shall mouldered be by time.

HIS EPITAPH.

In memory of the Rev. EBENEZER THAYER, who for nearly 26 years, dispensed the bread of life to the society in this place, (Hampton, N. H.) and on the 6 Sept. 1792, fell asleep in Jesus, supported by the christian hope of a resurrection to eternal life, aged 58.

While o'er this modest stone religion weeps,
 Beneath, a humble, cheerful, christian sleeps;
 Sober, learned, prudent, free from care and strife,
 He filled the useful offices of life.
 Admired, endeared, as husband, father, friend,
 Peace blessed his days and innocence his end.
 Blameless throughout, his worth by all approved,
 True to his charge and by his people loved.
 He lived to make his hearers' faith abound,
 And died, that his own virtues might be crowned.

Mrs. Thayer survived her consort till 1809, when she died in Boston, leaving that good name which is better than precious ointment.—[Alden's Coll. 2, 65.]

*The following tribute of respect to the memory of a worthy character, was prepared by the Rev. Ezra Weld of Braintree, for the Massachusetts Magazine:—

13 Feb. (7) 1794, aged 73, after a sore conflict for many years, deeply depressed, in the arms of his affectionate offspring, and other condoling friends, fell asleep, the Hon. EBENEZER THAYER, some time of the council board, and for many years a Representative of the ancient town of Braintree. His person and aspect was pleasing to the eye, while a condescending affability touched the heart, and gained the esteem of a numerous acquaintance; gentle and graceful were his manners, his affection tender and flowing, naturally hospitable and generous, many tasted the fruits of his bounty. Friendly to religion and virtue, he contributed to their support with cheerfulness, and while health remained, the house of God, sacred to worship, witnessed his presence, with such as keep holy day, an example honorable in all to imitate. He lived to see and lament the vanity of worldly parade and the increasing dissipation of the present age.

He now sleeps where the weary are at rest, waiting the final summons of the last trump, when the breath of God shall reanimate his humble dust! Hush, then, the filial flowing tear, nor call him back, again the galling shafts of envy to sustain, or drink anew the bitter cup of time, or over human woes to shed more tears! Adieu, thou friendly sleeping shade, adieu!—[Alden's Coll. 3, 27.]

Hon. Ebenezer Thayer, Esq. died aged 62 years 8 months and 30 days. He served the town many years as Selectman, Town Clerk and Treasurer ; was chosen their Representative — years ; was Senator of this County, (Norfolk) several years ; chosen and served as a Counsellor, and was appointed the first Sheriff of the County of Norfolk, Justice of the Peace throughout the Commonwealth, &c. All which offices he filled with integrity, and with no less usefulness to the public than honour to himself. He rose from grade to grade in the Militia, to Brigadier General. He left a fair reputation, one which even his enemies respected and envied.

His children were seven in number, four of whom survived him. He died of a general debility consequent on the stopping of a severe cough, with which he was exercised nearly twenty years. His death, though somewhat sudden, was easy ; his senses unimpaired, his mind calm and unruffled. He died like a real disciple of that pure religion, of which he for many years was a professor, 30 May, 1809.

Reveremini virtutes, et œulamini ejus exemplum.

There lived in Bellingham about the middle of the last century, and some years after, Dr. Jonathan Thayer, reputed to be a man of science, and of high standing in his profession. He died about 70 or 75 years ago. He left one son, whose name was Micah, who married a Howard of Mendon, and moved to Ware. He was alive and visited Mendon with his wife about 40 years since. There was one incident in the life of this Dr. Thayer, which has often been related by the aged people of Bellingham, which was believed and reported by them to be true, which was very extraordinary. In the summer season he was called to visit a patient in an urgent case, which he declined to visit, and assigned as a reason for not going, that some great misfortune was about to befall some one of his family, before he could return. However, at the repeated solicitations of the messenger he reluctantly consented to attend his professional call, but hastened with much speed to return, he immediately inquired for his absent son, and exclaimed "he is drowned," which after a long search, was found to be a fact. The boy had wandered with another boy to a deep place in Charles River, surrounded with wood, where they ventured to bathe some time, at length young Thayer sunk and rose no more.

itary attachment to the iron manufacture, are all circumstances remarkably characteristic of the name and family of Leonard.

The great progenitor JAMES LEONARD, lived to be more than seventy years old. He had three brothers, five sons, and three daughters. Of his sons, four lived to be more than eighty, and all his daughters above seventy-five.

THOMAS, the oldest son of James, was a distinguished character. He held the office of a Justice of the Peace, a Judge of the Court, a Physician, a Field Officer, and was eminent for piety. Sacred to his memory, an eulogy was printed in 1713, by the Rev. Samuel Danforth of Taunton, one of the most learned and eminent ministers of his day. This THOMAS had five sons of whom four lived above seventy years.

His son George was a Justice of the Peace, and a Military Officer. In Norton, in a poem published by a character of eminence, on occasion of his death in 1716, he is styled, "the prudent, pious, worthy, and worshipful Major George Leonard, Esq." He had four sons and three daughters.

His oldest son George was a Colonel and a Judge, both of the Probate and Common Pleas; he lived to be more than eighty. He had one son and two daughters.

His son is the Hon. George Leonard, Esq., late member of Congress. His oldest daughter is the wife of the Rev. David Barnes, and the mother of David Barnes, Esq. Attorney at Law. The other daughter was the wife of the late Col. Chandler of Worcester.

The second son of Major George Leonard was Nathaniel, a pious, worthy minister, who settled in Plymouth. He lived more than seventy years; and he had a son Abiel, who was a minister in Connecticut, and a Chaplain in the American Army, in the revolution war.

The third son of Major George Leonard was Ephraim; he was a Col. a Judge of the Court, and a man of eminent piety; he lived to be more than eighty. He had one child only, viz: Daniel, who is now Chief Justice of the Islands of Bermuda. He also has but one son, Charles, now a student at Cambridge College, (1793.) Two of the daughters of Major George Leonard lived to be aged. One was the wife of Colonel Thomas Clap, formerly a minister of Taunton; the other was the wife of a respectable Clergyman.

Samuel Leonard, the fourth son of THOMAS LEONARD, was a man of distinguished piety. He held the office of a Deacon, a Captain, and Justice of the Peace. He had four sons and five daughters. Two of his sons Captains, one a Justice of the Peace, and all of them Deacons. Three are yet alive, one above eighty and two above seventy. His third son Elijah has a son of his own name, lately settled in the ministry. His oldest daughter was the parent of Dr. Simeon Howard of Boston. His second daughter was the wife of the Rev. John Wales of this town, (See Wales, No. 17,) and the mother of Rev. Dr. Samuel Wales, Professor of Divinity at Yale College. The other daughters were the wives of respectable characters and all in public offices.

Elkanah, the fifth son of THOMAS LEONARD, had three sons, two of whom lived to see more than seventy. One was a Captain the other a Major, a Lawyer, and one of the most distinguished geniuses of his name and day. He left two sons, both Captains, and above sixty; one of them, viz: Zebulon, has an only child, that is now the wife of Dr. Samuel Shaw.

No. 19. XV B. ATHERTON WALES, the youngest son of Elder Wales, was graduated at Harvard College in 1726. He was settled in the ministry at Marshfield, Mass.

No. 20. TIMOTHY WALES, probably a son of Nathaniel Wales of Dorchester, (No. 1,) was one of the early settlers of that town. He had one son Eleazer, born 25, 10, 1657 ; and perhaps other children born before.

John was another son of THOMAS LEONARD. He had four sons and three daughters, who all lived to be above eighty. A daughter of the oldest son was the wife of the Rev. Eliab Byram, and the parent of the present wife of Josiah Dean, Esq. of this town, who himself is also a lineal descendant, and the present owner of the forge first built by his great ancestor.

JAMES, the second son of JAMES, bore his own name. He had four sons and three daughters ; three of his sons lived to be near eighty, and two of the daughters above ninety. One of them was the wife of Dr. Ezra Dean, and the other was the parent of Gershom Crane, Esq. who lived to be almost an hundred years old, and was the father of the present Dr. Jonathan Crane, Esq. The oldest son of JAMES, was Capt. James Leonard, who had three sons and five daughters. Two of his sons were Military Officers, and all of them lived to nearly the age of seventy. His oldest daughter was the wife of Thomas Cobb, Esq. and the mother of the Hon. David Cobb, Esq. Speaker of the House, Member of Congress, &c. (She was the grand-mother of the wife of Dr. Jonathan Wales, Randolph. See No. 11, 4.)

The second son of JAMES, was Stephen Leonard ; he was a Justice of the Peace, and a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas. He had four sons, three of whom lived to be aged ; one was the Rev. Silas Leonard of New York ; the oldest was Major Zephaniah Leonard, Esq. and Judge of the Court. He had five sons of whom four are yet alive, three of them had a public education at Yale College. The oldest is Capt. Joshua, who now inhabits the ancient paternal building, and is nearly seventy ; he has a son of his own name, who at the age of twenty-two, was an ordained minister in Connecticut. The second son is Col. Zephaniah Leonard. He has held the offices of an Attorney at Law, a Justice of the Peace, and is now Sheriff of the County. He has three sons, two of whom are now members of College. The third son is Apollos Leonard, Esq. one of the Special Justices of the County. The youngest son is Samuel Leonard, lately appointed a Justice of the Peace. He is a respectable, opulent merchant, and has a number of promising sons, that wait only for the proper age, to receive such an education as will add still greater honour to the ancient, honourable family and name they bear. Such has been the longevity and promotion to public offices in two branches of this family only.

The circumstance of a family attachment to the iron manufacture is so well known as to render it a common observation in this part of the country, viz : where you can find iron works, there you will find a LEONARD.

Henry, the brother of James, went from this place to the Jerseys, and was one of the first who set up iron works in that State. He was the progenitor of a numerous and respectable posterity in that part of America.

[Dorchester Records.]

*In consequence of the loss of the town records of Dorchester, by fire, prior to 1657, it is difficult, if not impossible to indentify the families to which many of its inhabitants belonged, as in this case, whether Samuel was a son of Timothy, No. 20, or John, No. 21, is uncertain. He may have been a brother of Elder Wales of Braintree; and the same remark will apply to Mary Wales, married to Nicholas George, 4 June, 1684.

EPHRAIM THAYER, *see page 107 **

a son of Shadrach and Deliverance Thayer, was born in Braintree, Mass. 17, 11, 1669. (See Part 1, No. 175, 7.) He married Sarah, the youngest daughter of John and Ruth Bass, 7 Jan. 1692. (See Bass, No. 11, and Thayer, No. 181.) Their children were,

7. Christopher,	"	4 March	1703	14. Abigail,	"	15 Nov	1713

Sarah, wife of Ephraim Thayer, died 19 Aug. 1751, aged 79 years and 5 months.

" 1757, June 15. Died Ephraim Thayer, suddenly, in the 88 year of his age—occasioned, as is supposed by a violent blow in his forehead, with the sharp end of a rail, at the barn door, where he was found dead. A great concourse of people attended his funeral."—[Church Records.]

When Mr. Thayer was 84 years of age, he married a second wife, (Mrs. Mary Kingman, widow.) She was a pious, good christian; and the tradition is, that his children provided for her comfort, in her old age, with dutiful attention.

VERSES, on the death of Mrs. SARAH THAYER, written in the year 1751. By Edward Chesman, Braintree.

Good people all I pray attend, To what I've got to say, Concerning one that's dead and gone, Death summon'd her away.	An ancient handmaid of the Lord, The wife of Ephraim Thayer, Who lately from us has deceased; Her praise I will declare.

No. 2.

SARAH THAYER,

the oldest child of Ephraim and Sarah Thayer, married

This person now of whom I write,
Is worthy of our praise ; [died,
With God she walked, in Christ she
She sprung from goodly race.

Her grand-father, he was a man
Who did the truth reveal,
And to defend Christ's kingdom great,
He burned with holy zeal.

Like holy Abraham of old,
Left land and kindred all,
And wandering up and down, he went
Wherever God did call.

From old England he did come o'er,
Where heathen did possess,
For to enjoy religion pure,
And God this man did bless :—

And made him once a ruler here,
Let's not forget his fame :
He lived above the age of man,
JOHN ALDEN was his name.

Her other grand-father, elder was,*
In Braintree church of old ;
He lived an holy, honest life,
To his praise let it be told.

Also her father was a man
Who lived to good estate ;
He lived an honest, holy life,
And died a hopeful saint.

She wedded was in youthful days,
To Mr. Ephraim Thayer,
He lived a good religious life,
This truth I can declare.

They lovingly together lived,
And never did provoke—
But like two lambs they did agree,
And both pulled in one yoke.

The time she lived a married life,
Was fifty-nine years and more—
The whole time of her pilgrimage,
Lack'd some months of four-score.

Also she was a fruitful vine,
The truth I may relate—
Fourteen was of her body born,
And lived to man's estate.

From those did spring a numerous race
One hundred thirty-two—
Sixty and six each sex alike,
As I declare to you.

And many of them went to war,
The enemy to suppress,
And all returned safe home again;
The Lord this race did bless.

And one thing more remarkable
Which here I shall record—
She'd fourteen children with her
At the table of the Lord.

Now the time comes that she must die,
God calls his handmaid home—
She obeys his voice most cheerfully,
Saying Blessed Lord I come.

Then sending for her children all,
And counsel'd them aright,
For to obey Jehovah's call,
And serve the Lord of might.

And having ended thus her work,
Her breath she did resign—
Into thy hands I do commend
This spirit, Lord of mine.

Her weeping friends stood round her bed
Closed up her eyes of clay—
Then for her funeral did prepare—
In dust they did her lay.

Could you have seen the numerous race
That did for her lament—
In number more than Jacob had,
When down to Egypt went.

Good people all, both far and near,
Count it a heavy frown,
When God sends his messenger death,
To cut the righteous down.

The nineteenth of August she did die,
Seventeen hundred fifty-one—
Her body here in dust doth lie,
Her soul to rest has gone.

Good people all, attend the call,
In her decease of late—
And walk with God as she hath done,
And he will bless your state.

*Dea. Samuel Bass was indeed a candidate for the office of ruling elder, and votes were given for him, for Dea. Brackett, and for Mr. Kinsley, but Mr. Hancock, in his cent. sermon, page 23, says, "I suppose Mr. Brackett and Mr. Bass refusing, the lot fell upon Mr. Kinsley." (See Bass, No. 1.)

O strive to live religious lives,
And not like Balaam vile,
Desire to die a righteous death,
And live a life defiled.

So fare you well her numerous race,
These few lines I do pen,
That you may seek Jehovah's face,
And serve the Lord. Amen.

These lines are here perpetuated, more on account of the historical facts therein contained, than the style in which they are composed.

*The Rev. Jonathan French of Andover, Mass. was born at Braintree, on the 30 Jan. 1740, N. S. When about seventeen years old he entered the army employed against the French and Indians, and in March, 1757, repaired to Fort Edward. Debilitated by the small pox and the fever and ague, he returned home in October.

He was afterwards stationed at Castle William, in the capacity of a sergeant, the chief care of the garrison often devolving upon him. In that situation his life was twice in great jeopardy. An Indian servant at the Castle, to whom he had refused rum, assailed him with a drawn knife. With great presence of mind and agility he avoided the weapon and brought his antagonist to the earth. The Indian completely vanquished, and surprized that his life was spared, was ever after grateful and obliging.

In the other instance, at great hazard, he seized an Indian prisoner who had escaped from confinement, and armed with a large club, threatened the life of any one who should attempt to take him.

Contemplating the practice of Physic and Surgery, his leisure was employed in the study; and so much did he enjoy the confidence of the faculty, that the medicines and care of the sick were often entrusted solely to him.

At a time when Boston harbour was so frozen as to prevent the passing of a boat, but not so as to be safe for any one on foot, a case occurred which required immediate attention. Articles were necessary which must be procured in Boston. Mr. French, with his characteristic resolution and perseverance, as he could not procure a man who was willing to venture, furnished himself with a long pole, and holding it horizontally, went and returned safely, though often in great danger, and was considered the instrument under Providence of saving the patient's life.

He afterward prepared for College, and on the last day of his service at the garrison, gave up his commission as commanding officer for the day, and entered Harvard University in the humble station of Cutler's freshman. He graduated in 1771.

He had contemplated a mission to the Indians, but was led in Providence, to settle in the ministry in the South Parish in Andover, where he was ordained 22 Sept 1772.

Mr. French's ministry was laborious. His manner of preaching was serious, solemn, and impressive. Though his life was a continued scene of fatigue, he was remarkably cheerful at almost all seasons. He was given to hospitality. His company was eagerly sought by the young and the old, and his house was the abode of friendship, harmony, and love.

In religious sentiment, he was such a Calvinist as the first fathers of New England. He had a strong attachment to the Assembly's Catechism, in which he regularly instructed the children, in the 7 districts of his parish.

He was one of the founders of the Massachusetts Society for the promotion of christian knowledge.

He was very much esteemed by the Churches of New England, as a wise, prudent, and judicious counsellor; as appeared from the great number of Ecclesiastical Councils he was called to attend.

He died of a paralytic affection, 28 July, 1809, in the seventieth year of his age, and the thirty-seventh of his ministry. A sermon was delivered at his funeral from John 14, 28, by Rev. Mr. Stone of Reading.

Rev. Samuel Stearns of Bedford, the subject of this Memoir, was son of Bedford, 27 April, 1796, and died 26 Dec. 1834, after a ministry of almost thirty-nine years. Mr. Stearns was an able and faithful minister. He was very clear and decided in his views of religion. In him, Orthodoxy and Charity were eminently united. He was a man of prayer, leading apparently a life of communion with God.

In his last sickness it was a great privilege to be near him, so heavenly was his conversation, so submissive was his deportment, so calmly would he speak of his approaching dissolution, and so firmly would he express himself of the Glory that was to follow. (See funeral sermon, by Rev.
 Samuel Sewall, from John, 11—25, 26.)

“ In Memory of Mrs. DELIVERANCE EMMONS, consort of the Rev. NATHANIEL EMMONS, who departed this life June 22, 1778, in the 36 year of her age.

In that dark hour all serene she lay
Beneath the openings of celestial day;
Her soul retires from sense, refined from sin,
While the descending Glory wrought within—
Then in a sacred calm resigned her breath,
And as her eyelids closed she smiled in death.

O Death, where is thy sting? O Grave, where is thy victory?”

An extract from an article in Alden's Coll. 2, 7, will at once give a recapitulation of the descent of these families from John Alden, and conclude the genealogy.

"In the maternal line "of these families," are traced to the Hon. John Alden, one of the pilgrims of Leyden, who came to Plymouth in 1620, who was assistant to all the Governors of the Old Colony, except the first, who died at Duxbury in 1638, at the age of about eighty-nine years. John Bass of Braintree, (now Quincy,) married Ruth, one of the daughters of John Alden. Sarah, a daughter of Mr. Bass, was the wife of Ephraim Thayer. This happy couple, another Zacharias and Elizabeth, as to their life and conversation, were blessed with a numerous family of children, remarkable for their piety. They were indulged the peculiar satisfaction of living to see fourteen children arrive at years of maturity, enter a family state, and unanimously make the noble resolution of Joshua; as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord. On one communion occasion, they enjoyed the singular felicity of presenting themselves, with the fourteen children, God had graciously given them, at the table of the Lord, to receive the emblems of Redeeming Love! A similar instance has seldom been found in the annals of the Christian Church."

CRITICAL REMARKS, ERRATA &c.

MEHETABEL is the true method of spelling a name which frequently occurs in the Family Memorial spelled Mchitable. It is a Hebrew name.

An extract from a Poem written by the first New England bard, the "learned Schoolmaster and Physician," Dr. BENJAMIN THOMPSON, who was born in Braintree, (now Quincy,) 14 July, 1642, died 13 April, 1714, aged 72 years, will close our volume.

NEW ENGLAND'S CRISIS.

"The times wherein old Pompion was a saint,
When men fared hardly yet without complaint,
On vilest cates; the dainty indian maize
Was eat with clamp-shells out of wooden trays,
Under thatch'd huts without the cry of rent,
And the best sawce to every dish content.
When flesh was food and hairy skins made coats,
And men as wel as birds had chirping notes.

When Cinnels* were accounted noble blood ;
 Among the tribes of common herbage food.
 Of Ceres' bounty formed was many a knack,
 Enough to fill poor Robin's Almanack.
 These golden times (too fortunate to hold,)
 Were quickly sin'd away for love of gold.
 'Twas then among the bushes, not the street,
 If one in place did an inferior meet,
 "Good morrow brother, is there aught you want ?
 "Take freely of me, what I have you ha'nt."
 Plain Tom and Dick would pass as current now, †
 As ever since "Your Servant Sir," and bow.
 Deep shirted doubtlets, puritanic capes,
 Which now would render men like upright apes,
 Was comlier wear, our wiser fathers thought,
 Than the east fashions from all Europe brought.
 'Twas in those days an honest grace would hold,
 Till an hot pudding grew at heart a cold.
 And men had better stomachs at religion,
 Than I to capon, turkey cock, or pigeon ;
 When honest sisters met to pray, not prate
 About their own and not their neighbours's state.
 During Plain Dealing's reign, that worthy stud,
 Of the ancient planters race before the flood—
 Then times were good, merchants cared not a rush,
 For other fare than Jonakin and Mush.
 Although men fared and lodged very hard,
 Yet innocence was better than a guard.
 'Twas long before spiders and worms had drawn
 Their dungy webs, or hid with cheating lawne
 New England's beautyes, which still seemed to me Illustrious in their own symplicity.
 'Twas ere the neighbouring Virgin-Land had broke
 The hogsheads of her worse than hellish smoak.
 'Twas ere the Islands sent their presents in,
 Which but to use was counted next to sin.
 'Twas ere a barge had made so rich a freight
 As Chocolate, dust-gold and bits of eight.
 Ere wines from France and Moscovadoe to,
 Without the which the drink will scarsly doe.
 From western isles ere fruits and delicacies
 Did rot maids' teeth and spoil their handsome faces.
 Or ere these times did chance, the noise of war
 Was from our towns and herts removed far.
 No bugbear comets in the chrystal air
 Did drive our christian planters to despair.
 No sooner pagan malice peeped forth
 But valour snib'd it. Then were men of worth
 Who by their prayers slew thousands, angel like ;
 Their weapons are unseene with which they strike.
 Then had the churches rest ; as yet the coales
 Were covered up in most contentious souls :
 Freeness in Judgment, union in affection,
 Dear love, sound truth, they were our grand protection."
